

Saline County Progress

Marshall Mo

7 Mar 1885

Painter, Mr. J. G. Hatton, of Cass county, and Miss Alice Halley.

—Mrs. T. E. Spencer left last week for Hot Springs, Arkansas, where she will remain the next three months, being treated for the rheumatism.

—Miss Lena McMahan, who went to New Orleans with Dr. Franklin and party, remained in the South, where she is visiting relatives in Mississippi.

—Mr. Louis Bachenheimer, until recently with Selig & Co. of this place, is now with S. Strouse, in Brownsville, Louis, will be missed from the fire brigade.

Married, Sunday morning, March 1st, 1885, at the residence of Mr. J. R. Morgan, Mr. Mack Remick of Longwood, to Miss Maggie McCutcheon, of Marshall. Rev. J. E. Sharp officiating.

—Mrs. Cellie Durrett will leave Monday for Dallas, Texas, where she will spend the next three months. Mr. Durrett begins to look lonesome already, at the prospects of his protracted widowhood.

—Mr. Rankin Blackburn returned the first of the week from a six week's visit to his old Kentucky home. The weather was so violently cool during his stay that he did not get to circulate as freely in the "blue grass" as he desired.

—Mr. John W. Rose has set up his Laredo and Penates, which is to say that he has located his household gods Jefferson avenue, where all the good young married people go, being the street upon which he is doubtless.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Page gave an elegant entertainment to the teachers of the public schools last Friday evening, at their hospitable mansion on the beautiful eminence in the north of town, which is one of the most prepossessing places in the city.

son of revival. One of the features of this meeting was the strong fraternal feeling of the other churches for its success. There are few places where there is more good will between the different denominations than in Marshall. This not only shows true christianity, but what is called horse sense.

—From our friend, Mr. A. P. Rector, who had the remembrance of Saline's old reliable newspaper present with him, even in his flight to a far city, we are indebted for the following special, dated last Monday at Richmond, Indiana: "Col. Pat. J. Carmody, in company with the following Missouri Democrats: F. T. Dysart, Ira S. Rals, D. L. Cooper, G. Buck Kelley (Monitor), P. H. Mize, Major D. S. Forney, Thos. J. Casey, Slater, S. D. Gordon, J. W. Stone, J. R. Campbell and A. F. Rector, Slater, passed through this city at 7:30 a. m. They will arrive at Washington on March 3d, at 8 o'clock a. m., and will be assigned a prominent place in the programme."

—The masquerade at the skating rink Tuesday night, put a large crowd of fantastic shapes on wheels, and many colors fluted about in gay confusion under the lamp light. Miss Fannie Potter, beautifully arrayed as "The Dawn," carried off the ladies' prize, a pair of fine shoes from Philpott & Hoax, and Sail Billingsley, who looked like a crashopper sufferer from Kansas, captured the gent's prize. Mrs. Will. Naylor was very apt in her presentation of "Topsy," and Miss Jessie Willis, of Muske, was highly complimented. The award was made by popular vote. There were many other noticeable make-ups, especially in the comic line. The rink was crowded, and roller skating is still the rage.

MARRIED.
