

BOONVILLE WEEKLY ADVERTISER

16 Feb 1894

8/2

The trial of Riley O. Evans for the murder of Peter Fine, in October last, was begun yesterday in the circuit court, before Judge Shackelford. A jury of forty men were empaneled, and the lawyers were given until this morning to make their challenges for the defense, and the state respectively. It is expected that the examination of witnesses will begin to-day. The defendant is represented by Draffen & Williams and John Cosgrove, and the state by Prosecuting Attorney Hayden, J. H. Johnston and C. D. Corum.

Monroe Hurt, one of Cooper county's oldest residents and a highly respected citizen, died at his home in Kelly township, two and one-half miles north of Tipton, Thursday evening, February 8th, and was buried Saturday in the Montoo graveyard on the old Brookin farm, now owned by Walt M. Monroe of the Tipton Times. Mr. Hurt had been a great sufferer from heart disease for many months. He leaves a wife and several children, and was a younger brother of "Uncle Johnny" Hurt, who is now at the ex-Confederate Home at Higginville.

The trial of Riley O. Evans for the murder of Peter Fine, in October last, was begun yesterday in the circuit Court, before Judge Shackelford. A jury of forty men were empaneled, and the lawyers were given until this morning to make their challenges for the defense, and the state respectively. It is expected that the examination of witnesses will begin today. The defendant is represented by Draffen & Williams and John Cosgrove, and the state by Prosecuting Attorney Hayden J. H. Johnston and C. D. Corum.

Monroe Hurt, one of Cooper county's oldest residents and a highly respected citizen, died at his home in Kelly township, two and a half miles north of Tipton, Thursday evening, February 8th, and was buried Saturday in the ✓ Monroe graveyard on the old Brookin farm, now owned by Walt M. Monroe of the Tipton Times. Mr. Hurt had been a great sufferer from heart disease for many months. He leaves a wife and several children, and was a younger brother of "Uncle Johnny" Hurt, who is now at the ex-Confederate Home at Higginville.