

Central Missouri Republican
23 Sep 1897

3/4

—Robert Elliott, sexton of the city cemetery, has been assisting Capt. Ravenell in staking out the line of the sewer system. Bob has had some experience in these matters and makes a good hand.

—J. H. Crump, H. C. McGroder, W. R. Annan, Shaw Roe, Wesley Roe and a number of others from Pilot Grove were in Boonville Tuesday, having been called here to testify in the case of McGroder vs. Crump.

—Vic Collins last week closed his restaurant. He opened up several months ago, but the amount of business was not sufficient to justify a further continuance. He will still conduct his barber shop, however.

* Trousers $3 20 up.

W. J. SUMMERS & Co, Tailors.

—We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary ticket to attend the Buncoeton fair, which begins Tuesday, Sept. 28, and continues three days. It promises to be one of the best fairs ever held in the county.

—Frank Smith now drives his sprinkler as far south on Main street as Walnut. During the excessively dusty weather a week ago he put another wagon in operation, and both were kept busy a greater part of the time.

—Everett Pizer, of the Pilot Grove Herald, was in Boonville Saturday. We account for the absence of his better half by reason of a solemn promise that he would keep out of trouble if permitted to come alone.

* The best fitting suits are at Victor's.

—We are pleased to note that Col. H. A. Hutchison, editor of the Advertiser, has so far recovered from his recent indisposition as to be able to attend to his professional duties. We miss him greatly when he is off duty.

—The "Katy" ran an excursion to St. Louis Sunday morning, the fare for the round trip being $2 20. At Boonville 62 tickets were sold. The frequent excursions on this road made it very popular with the traveling public.