

Cary, Silvey united in marriage

Rebecca Lynn Cary, Boonville, and Ricky Dale Silvey, New Franklin, were united in marriage May 28, at the Immanuel Lutheran Church, Boonville, at 6:30 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Roy and Donna Cary of Boonville. The groom is the son of Bud and Martha Silvey of Boonville.

The Rev. Michael Trinklein performed the candlelight double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with fresh arrangements of rainbow colored flowers and candleabras. Enhancing the aisle were triple hurricane candles and greenery garlands. Flanking the bridal party were 7-branch candleabras. Highlighting the chancel area were a pair of triple arch candleabras and a pair of spiral candleabras.

Paul Elter, friend of the bride, was soloist. Selections included "You Take My Breath Away," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer." Serving as organist was Mrs. Diane Cummins. Selections included "Trumpet Voluntary," "Bridal Chorus," and "Wedding March."

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father. The bride wore a Bridallure gown of polyester organza over taffeta. The gown was styled with a Queen Anne neckline, Lady Diana sleeves and a natural waist. Chantilly lace sprinkled with seed pearls accented the bodice, cuffs and front panel of the hooped skirt. Rows of tiny ruffles bordered the skirt and swept up the back of the cathedral length train. The bride's ensemble was completed with a matching picture hat adorned with a cluster of rainbow silk flowers and graced with a fingertip veil. The bride's flowers were a cascade of rainbow silk flowers and fresh catalaya orchids, roses and baby's breath.

Mandy and Sandy Cary, twin sisters of the bride, served as Jr. brides. They wore miniature white wedding gowns of lace and satin with chapel length trains. Their headpieces were halos of white silk roses. Their bouquets were miniatures of the bride's.

Serving as maid of honor was Sondra Hilden, cousin of the bride, Fayette. She wore a gown of blue chiffon and satin with a draped neckline and layered chiffon skirt. She carried a bouquet of silk roses, snap dragons, daisies, mums, irises and tiger lillies with greenery and white streamers. She wore a halo of white roses and blue lillies of the valley.

Bridesmaids were Pam Hein, cousin of the bride, Odessa, Mo; Karen Cary, sister of the bride, Boonville; Kim Hilden, cousin of the bride, Boonville; Brenda Cary, cousin of the bride, Boonville; and Sarah Kahle, friend of the bride, Bunceton.

They wore gowns of peach, mint, pink, yellow, and orchid respectively. Their gowns were styled as the maid of honor with halos that coordinated with their gown. Their bouquets were identical to the maid of honor.

Marsha Bulen, sister of the groom, Boonville, and Gina Silvey, sister-in-law of the groom, Boonville, served as candlelighters. They wore gowns styled as the bride's attendants in the color of cloud blue. They also wore halos of white roses and blue lillies of the valley. They wore wrist corsages of multi colored spring flowers with greenery and white streamers.

Flower girl was Karrie Custer, cousin of the bride. She wore a three quarter length dress of multi colored floral print, made by the groom's mother with a head piece of white silk roses. She carried a basket of multi colored rose petals.

Klint Custer, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. He wore a white tuxedo. The pillow he carried was the bride's mothers. It was made by the late Mrs. Amy Boehm. It was heart shaped with lace and white ribbons which carried the rings.

Bobby Ivy, friend of the groom, Boonville, served as best man. Groomsmen were Robby Myers, David Dodson, Tim Sims, all friends of the groom, Charles Bulen, brother-in-law of the groom, Greg Silvey, brother of the groom, all of Boonville.

Ushers were Mark Cary, Boonville, Keith Rose, Bunceton, cousins of the bride, Jim Sims, Boonville, and Mike Imhoff, Boonville, friends of the groom.

Serving as doormen were John and Christopher Cary, cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a layered floor length mauve chiffon gown. She wore a corsage of orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale lavender gown with a bodice of chiffon overlay and pleated skirt. She also wore a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. Kim Rose & Stephanie Johnson, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the guest book. Others assisting were Ramona Green, Christi Green, Ginger Attebery, Tina Lenz, and Tanya Harned, all friends of the bride. Gift table attendants were Debbie Luster, Anna Carey, and Lisa Herigon, friends of the bride.

The 3-tiered cake was supported on columns with a fountain at the base surrounded by 4 heart shaped cakes and accented with multi-colored flowers. The cake was decorated with a crystal heart cake topper bride & groom on the 2nd tier with members of the wedding party descending the staircase. The groom's cake was designed as a supreme pizza, with icing serving as cheese and all the trimmings.

Following the reception, the wedding dance took place at the Eagles Lodge. The rainbow color scheme was carried out with fresh flower table decorations. The bride and groom danced their first dance to "You and I." The garter was then tossed. Mike Imhoff caught it. Ginger Attebery caught the bouquet. Following the tossing of the garter and the bouquet, the wedding party danced to "All My Life."

The bride's going-away costume was a white skirt matching blazer with a pink silk draped neck blouse. Her accessories were diamond earrings and necklace, which were wedding gifts from the groom. Her corsage was made of fresh white daisies and pink roses.

After a wedding trip to Nashville, Tenn. the couple are at home at 314 Edwards Street, New Franklin, Mo.

The bride is a graduate of Bunceton High School and will enter Columbia College this fall.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Boonville High School. He is currently employed at Rome Pizzeria in Boonville.

At the rehearsal the bride-elect carried a bouquet of bows made for her by her great aunt, Pauline Brommer of Tex. The rehearsal dinner took place at the Flaming Pit. The bridal party, guests, parents, family members and Rev. and Mrs. Michael Trinlein attended. Afterwards a small get-together took place at the future home of the bride and groom. The bride and groom were honored with showers preceding their marriage by Marsha Bulen and Gina Silvey; Ramona Green, Sondra Hilden, Sandra Miller and Karen Cary; Shirley Scott, B J. Ignacio, and Mrs. Frank Burkhead.
