Walnut Grove Cemetery
Boonville Weekly Eagle, 31 Mar 1876

The frequent allusions to these grounds in the papers, and the slurs, not to call them by a harsher name, thrown out against the Company, propel me, as the only surviving resident member, to offer the following in explanation.

The above Cemetery was started in 1852, by ten citizens, who were unwilling to bury their dead in the uninviting grounds belong to the city, with no intention, however, of making it a public burying ground; but when the people saw the many improvements, and the evident determination of the managers to make it an ornament to the city, they insisted upon buying lots, and the managers, were, I might say, foolish enough to sell them at first at the enormous price of $10 each, and only raised (not however without giving ample notice) to $15 and $25, when they found that to continue at the former rate would not yield them revenue enough to keep the grounds in order, especially when the many lots are taken into consideration which to this day remain unpaid for, not to mention those which were presented to ministers, etc. Although it is asserted in the papers that for no improvements were ever made yet the vouchers show that the Company expended during the first ten years, nearly $2,5000, including $500 for the purchase of the grounds but never one dollar for compensation of officers, and that they have since expended large amounts for improvements, including new sections of fence, three different attempts to raise a hedge all around the grounds, planting out great numbers of evergreens, many of which have been dug up and destroyed not to mention minor items, besides paying $30 yearly for the having the grounds taken care of - few people have an idea of how much labor it requires. Up '67, the grounds were kept in such order that they were pointed out with pride to strangers, and how ridiculous it is for anyone to suppose, that those who for so many years freely and cheerfully gave their time and labor to this enterprise should all at once have turned barbarians and became recreant to their self-imposed trust by neglecting the work which they had taken so much satisfaction in creating. The facts are, that if the managers had never been interfered with, the grounds would never have shown any signs of neglect. The trouble began, when in '67, during my sojourn in Europe the agricultural society tore away the western division fence and replaced it by a high up and down, (not very ornamental) concern, which has defied all efforts to keep it in order. The A. S. never paying the slightest attention to its condition. The fence would have long since been replaced by a suitable and substantial one, had it not been the avowed intentions of some parties to turn the fair grounds into a cemetery, thereby making this division fence unnecessary. The next trouble came when the city authorities needed some earth to fill up in front of the gate, and in order to save a little hauling, had the bank of earth along the front fence dug away to such an extent as to expose the pests, which naturally was soon followed by their total downfall. By leaving it for a while in that deplorable condition, I hoped to show the city authorities the absolute necessity of repairing the damages by replacing the bank of earth so uselessly dug away and thereby enable one not only to make a permanent enclosure, but also to restore the dry walk along the fence and greatly improve the entrance, (the whole expense being estimated at $150.00) All efforts in that direction have been thus far in van, and I feel compelled to hereby give notice, that whenever the present fence falls down again, which from a lack of sufficient foundation must of necessity son occur, nothing can and will be done, until the city repairs the damages alluded to - not have the right to do it myself, even if so inclined nor can the fence be set back, without encroaching upon graves.

I believe I am justifiable in saying that the Walnut Grove enterprise is the only one ever attempted here, which has been faithfully carried out, without the slightest hope for glory or the advancement of any private interest; and yet it seems the originators have not even been able to escape the charge of improper motives.

To those who are ready to find fault, a most excellent opportunity is now presented, to test their delights and cares of owning a cemetery, by laying off new grounds, beautifying and ornamenting them, until the old are completely eclipsed, and by renouncing all pecuniary profit, and base their hopes fro reward solely and exclusively upon the expected thanks of a proverbially grateful public.

C. F. Aehle

Walnut Grove Cemetery, one of the most beautiful in the State, had its inception in 1852. In that year Charles F. Aehle, Robert D. Perry, Dr. A. Keuckelhan and others purchased a piece of ground containing two acres from William S. Myers to be used as a cemetery. Upon this ground was a beautiful grove of walnut trees, hence the name Walnut Grove Cemetery. This tract has been added to from time to time. The first body interred in the cemetery was that of Mrs. Sarah Ann Quarles, who died Aug. 24, 1852. Others buried about the same time were Mrs. H. A. Massie, James McDearmon, and Ida Aehle. Also the remains of David Burton, first United States Senator of Missouri, was removed from the City Cemetery and buried here, where now stands an appropriate monument erected by the State. Up to 1880 this cemetery was under the care of Mr. Aehle, in which year the cemetery was made public under certain rules and restrictions by the purchase of the same from Mr. Aehle by and through a corporation organized for that purpose. The charter, however, was not issued until June 7, 1881.

The people of Boonville and Cooper County are justly proud of this beautiful cemetery where rest the remains of their loved and lost. It has grown from year to year and its management has been such as to add to its beauty with years. While not all but much of the credit due to the superb management of this cemetery is credited to Dr. William Mittlebach, who for years has been superintendent and secretary of the same. The present board of directors are T. A. Johnson, president; W. W. Trigg, vice-president; R. W. Whitlow, treasurer; William Mittlebach, superintendent and secretary; Hilliard Brewster, Fred G. Lohse, Starke Koontz, and Charles Doerrie. The executive committee consists of William Mittelbach, W. W. Trigg, and Fred G. Lohse. Lawrence Geiger, Sr., is the present sexton.

From W. F. Johnson's "History of Cooper County, Missouri", 1919

Originally, a two acre walnut grove on land owned by William S. Myers on the east edge of town just sough of the Thomas Nelson estate was purchased, and the cemetery was designed around the grave of Missouri's first Senator, David Barton whose remains were move in 1853 from their original resting place in the old City Cemetery where he had been buried in 1837. McVicker believes part of the motivation for moving Barton's remains may have been related to the fact that the first Missouri State Fair was scheduled to open at Boonville on grounds just to the north of the cemetery in the same year. Jacob Wyan was also re-interred at Walnut Grove along with a number of others.

The cemetery remained under the control of the Aehle family until 1880 when it was sold to a corporation formed by Charles C. Bell, who also arranged the purchase of additional acreage and superintended a re-landscaping of the grounds, replacing many of the old and diseased walnut trees with the cypress trees that grace the grounds at present. In 1881 the first official cemetery board was elected, including Bell, Charles Aehle, John Cosgrove, Augustus H. Sauter, George B. Harper, Speed Stephens, Jacob F. Gmelich, John E. Thro and Samuel W. Ravenel. More acreage was added over the next twenty years, and in 1892 a perpetual care was established. In 1901, George Kessler, the landscape architect who designed many of Kansas City's boulevards and the mineral spa area at Excelsior Springs, as well as taking an active part in the landscaping of the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair, was hired to redesign the cemetery. At present the cemetery includes just over 21 acres and nearly 8,000 people are buried there.

After graduation, Mrs. Mutti was employed as a social worker in Audrain County. Three daughters were born to the couple. After the Muttis settled in Paris in 1947, Mrs. Mutti became a very active member of the Paris Presbyterian Church. Her contribution to the church was significant, including serving as the first woman deacon and the second woman elder. In addition, she sang in the church choir, was a Sunday School teacher, and served on numerous committees. During her 57 years as a Paris resident, Mrs. Mutti participated in many civic activities. She was a member of the Clio Literary Club, Double I Literary Club, Republican Women's Club, Missouri Retired Teachers and Paris Public Education foundation. Young people who went through the Paris R-II school system from 1962 - 1987 knew Mrs. Mutti as the substitute teacher. Mrs. Mutti enjoyed her 25 years of subbing in every grade level and for every subject. For several years, during her involvement with the Paris school system, Mrs. Mutti coordinated the foreign student exchange program. After retirement, Mrs. Mutti traveled to all 50 states of the USA, as well as to several European countries. Much of their traveling was done in conjunction with the Elderhostel Educational Programs. In 2004, Mr. and Mrs. Mutti re-located to a retirement community in Columbia. She regretted having to leave her dear and kind friends, but she took with her many wonderful memories. During her short residency in Columbia, she made some new friends and added to her cache of good memories. Trigg	William Hodge, Dr.; After an illness of several weeks, which commenced during a visit to his grandson, Walton Trigg, at Albuquerque, N. M., but from which he so far recovered as to be able to return home, Dr. William H. Trigg died in this city at 3:55 p.m. on Wednesday last, February 20th, 1895. For more than a week he had been gradually sinking, and finally became unconscious, and quietly and without apprarent pain passed through the valley of death. He was among the oldest, best-known and most wealthy citizens of this city, and to a large circle of friends in this locality and in the state he leaves a pleasant memory and an honored name. He commenced life during his youth on his own account by such employment as he could obtain, and by assiduous study qualified himself to teach school; then he studied medicine and became a practicing physician; after a time he engaged largely in merchandising; banking was then shortly added to his other interests; and soon became one of the leading business, wealthy and prominent citizens of this county. The deceased was born in Wilson county, Tenn., January 24, 1808. His father, Daniel Trigg, was a native of Bedford county, Va., and was born in March, 1776. When a young man Daniel Trigg went to Tennessee with his father's family, and there subsequently married a daughter of Rev. William Hodge, of North Carolina. Of this union seven children were reared, of whom William H. Trigg was the second. The father died April 28, 1830, and Mrs. Trigg, September 22, 1823. In youth William H. worked in various occupations and attended such schools as were convenient, and subsequently taught school himself. About this time he commenced the study of medicine under Dr. Hodge, of Sumner county, and afterwards continued it under Drs. Hodge & Blackmore, of Gallatin, Tenn. In 1830 he commenced the practice of his profession in Wilson county, where he was born and reared, and remained there a year. Thence he went to Kainesville, Tenn., and the folowing year located in Gallatin, of that state, where he practiced until 1834. In February of that year he came to Boonville, where he at once entered upon the practice of medicine again, and followed it until his other business became so important as to require his whole attention. Here, during the first year of his residence, he began merchandising, and was a member of the firm of Boyers, Blythe & Trigg. This continued two years. He then became a partner in the firm of Wyan & Trigg, which lasted until the death of Mr. Wyan in 1842. In 1846 Dr. Trigg engaged in the banking business, which he followed without a partner until 1858, when Messrs. James M. Nelson, Joseph L. Stephens and others became his associates, and the house was then known as W. H. Trigg & Co. This firm was dissolved eight years afterwards, in 1866. In the meantime, however, in 1861, he and others organized a mercantile company under the name of W. H. Trigg & County, which did business in Boonville until 1864, when they went to Courtland, N. Y, where they carried on business until the fall of 1865. Returning then to Boonville, they resumed business here, and also added banking as a branch of their business. Two years afterwards, however, the banking department was dispensed with, and until 1892 they cofined themselves to their mercantile interest exclusively, at which time they retired from business. This house was one of the largest retail establishments in Central Missour, and had an extensive and profitable trade throughout the surrounding country for many miles. On the 14th of April, 1835, Dr. Trigg married Miss Sarah G., daughter of Jacob Wyan, an old settler of Cooper county. She was born December 25, 1818, and died July 10, 1884. They have four children -- Josephine H., who is the wife of John T. Piggott; Julia A., wife of William M. Johnson; and Anna M., wife of William Lionberger; and an only son, William W. Trigg, all residing in this city. As a business man Dr. Trigg achieved a degree of success that stamped him a man of superior ability and enterprise. As a citizen he was always public-spirited and among the foremost to offer help, both material and otherwise, in all movements calculated to promote the general interest of the city and surrounding country. His funeral will take place this (Friday) p.m. at 2:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church (of which he was a member,) and the burial immediately after at Walnut Grove Cemetery.
