Copy from his Dairy:—The move to Missouri in 1854, written by Joel N. Boone.

I started from dear old state of North Carolina, to find a home in the West. I left Lenoir, about the first of November, 1854, in company with Lemon H. Moore, the first night I stayed at the town of Morgantown, at the Mountain Hotel, then kept by Dr. Hoppolt, an old friend. Each of us had a good hack to travel in. Mine was made by that good old man, Noah Spainhour, who was at that time carrying on a shop for any and everything that could be made out of wood in the town of Lenoir. Well, from Morgantown we went direct to Cummeng, the town of Forsythe county, Georgia, the home of my friend, Mr. Moore. I stayed about ten days in that town with old friends, such as Dr. Alex. Bogle, J. N. Puitt, and Jacob Leming and others. There I sold my team and hack to John Sims & his brother-in-law. T. Hills son took us to Atlanta, where we struck the Railroad—the next noon we were in Chatanooga, Tennessee, and from there we went to Nashville, and stayed all night. I expected next morning to go on a boat on the Cumberland, but the river was too low for a boat to run. We then took passage by stage to Louisville, Kentucky, 155 miles out of the way. There we got a nice boat the Conowago. I paid $30. to go from Louisville, to St. Louis, Mo., but the water was so low in the river that the boat could make no speed on our journey, so we left the boat at Cairo, Illinois, and there I saw the biggest jimson weeds I ever saw. I could almost climb them. There we got on the Central & Illinois Railroad for St. Louis, and we got there and stayed over Sunday. (Here the paper is torn and the writing is illegible.)

DOAK FAMILY.

Alanson F. Doak came from Wilson county, Tenn., to what is now Hickory county, in the early 40's. He brought with him his wife and four children, two boys and two girls. In a few years the oldest girl died at about the age of ten or eleven years. The father, Alanson F., as is shown elsewhere had been Sheriff and Collector of the County, and when the Civil War came on in 1861 he was Clerk of the courts and Recorder, with his son, Robert F., who now resides at Cross Timbers, as his Deputy, who appears from the scraps of the record left from the Court House fire, to have did most of the work. In February, 1861, the father lived in Hermitage, and the mother died, and when the family returned from the burial of the mother the son was taken sick and in four or five days died, Northeast of Hermitage, on the place now owned by the widow and heirs of Judge Solberg. The other sister also died at the Solberg farm, but we are unable to procure the date. This left of the once happy family, only the father, Alanson F., and the son, Robert F. The father died near Cross Timbers, in March, 1883. All of the members of the family, who have died were buried in the Walker cemetery North and West of Cross Timbers. Robert F., was born in Wilson county, Tenn., in 1829, and was married to his wife, who was a daughter of Richard Dickerson, December 4, 1851, by Rev. Levi R. Morrison, a Presbyterian Minister. First child born to Mr. and Mrs. Doak was a girl, and only lived a few hours. The second child born was a girl, Osean M., born July 3, 1854. She grew to womanhood and married James Cunningham, and died May 12, 1885, leaving a son, who is now in the United States Army in the Phillipine Islands. The third child was a boy, Alanson

F., born September 14, 1856. Alanson F., has been twice married, and now resides in Cross Timbers. He has bought, fed and sold cattle for a number of years, and now owns an interest in the flouring mill near the town, and valuable real estate near the town, and is otherwise well fixed financially. The fourth child, Richard D., was born July 31, 1858. He married Miss Addie Noland, and they have a family of three children, two boys and a girl, and live in the county seat of Armstrong county, Texas. The youngest child, Mary E., was born August 29, 1861. She married Lafayette B. Davis, who lives about four or five miles South of Hermitage, and they have an interesting family of eight children.

JOHN DOLLARHIDE.

John Dollarhide was born in the state of North Carolina, in 1782, and his wife, Jemimmah-Osborn-Dollarhide, was born in 1791, in Scott county, Va. The mother died in Hickory county, Mo., in 1871, and the father died in Hickory county, Mo., in 1862. Two brothers of John, went from North Carolina to Arkansas in an early day and another went to Louisiana. John and Jemimmah were married in Scott county, Va., and removed to Franklin county, Mo., in 1832, and came to what is now Hickory county, a few years later. He followed farming and school teaching in Virginia and in Missouri. He was elected Assessor of Hickory county, at the elections in 1850-52, and in 1856, but was defeated by Joel J. Bradley, in 1854. The children of John and Jemimmah were as follows: Nancy, who married Henry Dingus, Hiram, who went back to Virginia, William, who had served 24 years as Justice of the Peace in Hickory county, and died a few years ago about a mile East of Preston, Annis, who married Jonathan Compton, Jane, who married I. V. Newbery, Henderson, who was elected Sheriff of Hickory county, in 1854, and died in office in 1855, Jemimah, who married S. W. Short, Elizabeth, who married Barney Richards, John C., who is yet alive, and lives on Crane creek, about four miles Southeast of Hermitage, and has perhaps a clearer recollection of men and things that have transpired in Hickory county for 70 years than any other man now living. When the county was divided into four assessment districts in 1858 he was appointed Assessor for District No. 2, for 1859. Sarah, the next child, married Alen Moody, and Mary, the youngest, married J. F. Compton. All are now dead except John C. William Dollarhide, the third of the children, of John and Jemimah, married Martha Holt in 1834, in Franklin county, Mo., who was borne in Tennessee, and died in Hickory county, Mo., in 1848, having born five children, only one of whom, Jane Spencer, is now living. In 1849, he was married to Elizabeth Riddle, widow of Riley Riddle, who were father and mother of Judge Joseph Riddle, who is now President of the County Court of Hickory county, and was born Aug. 6, 1846. To the union between William Dollarhide and Elizabeth Riddle, was born one son, William R., who died about three years ago. The wife died in 1855. On Oct. 8, 1861, he married Nancy Jackson, who was born in North Carolina, and is now deceased, and to them were born: Amanda, single, Louisa, wife of Anthony W. Bowcher, Virginia, who married Joseph T. Edde and is now deceased, India Anix, who is also deceased. We are greatly indebted to John C. Dollarhide for many facts we state about the early settlement of the county and its people.

AMOS LINDSEY.

Amos Lindsey was born in South Carolina, Dec. 25, 1786. He was the first child of Abraham Lindsey, who was an officer in the Continental Army in the War of the Revolution. While a young man Amos emigrated to Virginia, where he was married to Mary Madison in 1810. They removed to Butler county, Ky., where all their children were born, eight boys and two girls. In the year 1834, they removed to Winchester, Ill., and came to Missouri in 1837, and settled on the "Fifteen mile prairie," where he died. When he made his settlement, there were only five families on or about the prairie. As will be seen elsewhere he was a member of the first county court of this county. He had previously been Sheriff of Butler county, Ky., for two or three terms. The first child born to Mr. Lindsey and wife was Irene, who was the wife of Jacob A. Romans, and was born Oct. 21, 1811, and died in Hickory county Mo., Aug. 7, 1889, after raising two daughters, one of whom married Ben F. Simmons, and the other married Rufus B. Green. Anthony W., was born Sept. 14, 1814, and died in Hickory county Missouri, June 9, 1890. He had a fair education, was a great reader, and perhaps knew more of the history of the world, and its peoples, and of the history of his own country, than any other man, who has ever lived in the county.

James and Abraham, twins, were born May 21, 1817. Abraham died Jan. 28, 1894, and James, died Oct. 1, 1903. Both raised families and died in Hickory county, Mo.

Nancy, was the wife of George W. Hayes, was born Apr. 20, 1820, who raised a family and died in Hickory county, Mo., Feb. 4, 1893.

Amos F., born Jan. 16, 1823, and died in Hickory county, Mo., when about 28 years of age.

Lycurgus, was born Nov. 8, 1825, and is now living on his farm about four miles Southeast of Preston. Further mention of him will be found with our reference to the War of 1861-65.

Alfred, was born June 23, 1828, and has raised a family, and lived in Preston, and been Postmaster, and kept store, the greater part of the time since late in 1866.

Thomas, was born Sept. 6, 1831, and raised a family, and died Apr. 23, 1903, in Dallas county, Mo., but within half a mile of his father's old residence in Hickory county.

John J., the youngest one of the family, was born Apr. 2, 1834, has raised a family on the farm where he now resides, about a mile South of Preston.

The old father, Amos, died June 24, 1875, and his wife Mary Madison-Lindsey died in 1868.

JAMES LINDSEY.

James Lindsey, a son of Amos Lindsey and Mary Madison-Lindsey, was born in Butler county, Ky., May 21, 1817, and died in Hickory county, Mo., Oct. 1, 1903. Cynthia Jones-Lindsey, daughter of G. W. Jones and wife, wife of James Lindsey, was born in Tenn., Dec 11, 1818, and died in Hickory county, Mo. They were married Mar. 18, 1841. G. W. Jones, the father of Cynthia, removed from Tenn., in the year 1828, and settled on the Lebanon and Tuscumbia road, about eight miles North of Lebanon, Mo., on lands that were known 20 years ago as the John Bohannon farm. Later Mr. Jones moved to Hickory county, and settled on Little Niangua, on what is known as the John Mabary old farm, where John N. Mabary now lives. It is believed that James Lindsey and Cynthia Jones were married at that place.

McCRACKEN FAMILY.

The earliest accurate information received about this family is that Robert McCracken, a full blood Scotchman, who lived and died in Scotland, was the father of two sons and a daughter, who came to America sometime in the 18th Century, before the War of the Revolution. Names of these children of Robert were: Joseph, John L., and Elizabeth Ann, Joseph settled in New York, and John settled in Maryland. Joseph was a Colonel in the Continental Army, and John L., was a non-commissioned officer. The descendants of Joseph and Elizabeth Ann, if they left any, are lost to the McCrackens of Hickory, Polk, and Green counties. The latter are the descendants of John L., McCracken, who settled in Maryland. He had six children: John, Robert, James, Ephraim, Thomas, and Sarah. Some of these children are believed to have been born in Scotland, but Thomas was born in Maryland, and it was he and his children who came to Southwest Mo. Thomas and his family moved from Maryland to North Carolina and settled in Roane county. From there the children scattered. Sarah married a man named Warthan, and went to Indiana. Where the other children went, except Thomas McCracken, is not known by the McCrackens here. Thomas McCracken, fifth son of John L., was born Feb. 26, 1778, he was married in N. C., about 1805, to Elizabeth Holmes, a girl of pure Irish blood. He moved with his wife to Williamson county, Tenn., where their children were all born: ten sons and three daughters, in the following order: John Little, Aug. 9, 1808; Robert Holmes, Dec. 26, 1809; Samuel, Mar. 30, 1811; Nathaniel, Oct. 17, 1813; James, Sept. 28, 1815; Miles, Sept. 11, 1817; Doctor T., Aug. 7, 1819; Ephraim, May 17, 1821; Albert G., Jan. 28, 1823; Margaret J., Mar. 26, 1824; Elizabeth Ann, Nov. 26, 1826; Nancy M., Apr. 17, 1828. Joseph Carroll, Apr. 15, 1830. The following is a sketch of all these children of Thomas McCracken, who came to Missouri in the years 1838, to 1842: John Little, married Elvira McMinn, in Tenn., and moved to Green county, Mo., about 1840. They had nine children as follows: Calvin, Matilda, who married a man named Turner, and went to Texas, Emily, who married William Riggs, and lived in Springfield, Mo., Albert, who married and went to Arkansas, James, who married Sarah Jarrett, and went to Arkansas, John, who married Jennie Jarrett, Elvira, and Eliza. John Little McCracken, father, died in Green county, near Springfield, Mo., about 1878. Robert Holmes, and Samuel, came to Hickory county, in 1837, or 1838, and Robert Holmes entered land in Section 27, Township 36, Range 23, Oct. 22, 1838; this entry and another in the same Section by William Metcalf, being of the same date, were the first land entries in what is now Hickory county. Robert Holmes married Clarissa Richardson, and they lived, raised a family, and died on the land he first entered. To their union were born ten children as follows: Thomas A., John T., Christopher C., Saina, Martha O., Robert P., Richard M., Nancy, Cicero, and Nettie. Of these John T., Cicero, and Saina, are dead. The others live in Hickory county, except Nettie, the wife of F. F. Yoast, who lives in Polk county. Samuel McCracken, married Elizabeth Owens, and to them were born eight children, as follows: Joseph C., Margaret, Lafayette, Jerome B., Paris, Louisa, Samuel, and Leonidas. Samuel, the father, died of measles in 1855, and his widow lived on the farm where her husband had first settled in 1838, and raised the family. After the Civil War, her and two sons and a daughter moved to Texas. Joseph C., Lafayette, and Margaret are dead. Jerome B., lives in Hickory county.

Nathaniel, came to what is now Hickory county, in 1842. He married Arrissa Cates, of Polk county, Mo., and he as well as his brothers, Robert Holmes, and Samuel, opened up his farm, clearing and fencing his land with a rail fence, building a log house with "clap-board" roof, "puncheon" floor, limestone chimney and "batten" doors. He and his good wife died at the old place. He Dec. 24, 1897, at the age of 84 years. To them were born eleven children as follows: James N., Ransom C., Emily, I. G., Robert A., Henry, Thomas J., Edith, McClellan, John R., and Julia. These children are scattered in the Southwest. Emily and Julia are dead, and Ransom C., and Thomas J., reside in Hickory county, Mo.

James McCracken came to Hickory county, Mo., in 1840, from Tenn., and entered land in Section 2, Township 35, Range 23. He afterwards married Ann B. Douglas, of Polk county, Mo., and lived in Bolivar, where to him and his wife were born three children: William Thomas Jewett, Albert J., and Intha Ann. The father, James, died of measles in Bolivar, Feb. 4, 1852, also the daughter, Intha Ann, died there about the same time. William T. J., improved the lands his father entered in Hickory county, after the Civil War, in which he served in Company "C" 8th Regiment M. S. M., and lived on the farm, until after he was elected Sheriff of Hickory county, at the November election 1880. He was Sheriff and Collector of the county, and resided in Hermitage, until 1891, when he was appointed Register of the United States Land Office, at Boonville, Mo. He moved with his family to Boonville, where he resided until Oct. 1893, and then came to Cross Timbers, where he took stock in and assisted in organizing the Bank of Cross Timbers, and was its first Cashier, in which position he remained until 1896, when he removed to Warrensburg, and remained there until 1903, a year or so of the time coming to Hickory county, and acting as Assistant Cashier of the Hermitage Bank. In Aug. 1903, he accepted a position in the Bank of Humansville, and is now Cashier of that bank and resides with his family in Humansville. Albert J., resides in Bolivar.

Miles McCracken, died at the home of his brother, Robert Holmes, in 1865. Doctor T., died in Polk county, Mo., Feb. 8, 1852, Ephraim, died near Rondo, in Polk county, July 6, 1898, Albert G., died in Green county, Sept. 28, 1878, Joseph Carroll, resides in Polk county, near Rondo, where his father, Thomas, settled in 1842. The father, Thomas, died on the farm Jan. 26, 1859, and the mother, Elizabeth, died Sept. 6, 1870. Joseph Carroll was married to Mary F. Bodine, of Hickory county, who was born Sept. 13, 1837, on Oct. 21, 1856, and to them were born children as follows: Henry Clay, Marcus A., Charles C., Marcellus Belle, Theopilus P., William T., Sherman, L. C., wife of John E. Kendall, Virginia F., and Martha F.

WILLIAM MONTGOMERY.

William Montgomery, father of John J. Montgomery, and Grand-father of John William Montgomery, present Prosecuting Attorney, of Hickory county, was born in N. C., Aug. 17, 1797, and his wife, Nancy Ballou-Montgomery, was born in Apr. 1800. William Montgomery and his son, John J., went to the state of California in 1850, and William died there Oct. 8, 1853. Nancy, his wife, died in Dallas county, Mo., Feb. 23, 1854. William Montgomery came to Missouri from Tennessee, and settled on the Gasconade river in what is now Pulaski county, Mo., in 1817, and moved to what is now Camden county, on Little Niangua, about two miles East of what is now the Northeast corner of Hickory county, in 1829, and settled what was known several years ago as the Hugh Allison-Drenon place, about four miles below where Fritz Muller now owns a large tract of land. In 1829 or 1830, John Stark settled near the mouth of Stark creek and Reason Jones settled what was once known as the James P. Huffman place, in the Niangua bottom, now a part of the Fritz Muller tract of land, about 1834. Wash Jones settled the Elias Cook old place in 1830, in Section 24, Township 37, Range 20, and included in his claim some of the John Mabary land, now owned by John Newton Mabary. William Montgomery moved with his family in 1831, to the farm now owned by John J. Montgomery, on Little Niangua, about one mile East of the Southeast corner of Section 36, Township 37, Range 20, and his son, John J., has resided there except about four years, he was in California, and a few years he was in Texas, until about three years ago, when he came to live with his son in Hermitage. In 1831, Joseph Hayes, who came from N. C., with William Montgomery, lived on what is now the John M. Pippin place in Section 31, Township 37, Range 19. Judge Mitchell Ross settled on Niangua below the Pippin place in 1832. Joseph Hayes was the father of Geo. W. Hayes, who married Nancy Lindsey, and died about 1875, on a farm on Little Niangua about a mile above Almon. Wash Young settled the place where Geo. W. Hayes died in the early 30's. In 1838-39, William Montgomery settled a place further South than his farm on Little Niangua. It was on "Four mile prairie." He moved to it in 1840, and it was from there that he went to California. Uncle John J. Montgomery recites some amusing stories of early days in Missouri. In 1833, one of William Montgomery's daughters, Elizabeth Ann, was visiting with friends and relatives down near where the family had first settled on Gasconade river, and became engaged to marry a young man named John West. There was some difficulty down there, about consent of the parent, William Montgomery, or a Minister or Justice of the Peace to solemnize the marriage, so they with several friends set out on horseback and came up to where the parents lived. There was no trouble about the consent, but there was no Minister or Justice of the Peace, over there on Little Niangua, so they sent over into Benton (now Hickory) county, to get a Justice of the Peace, but the difficulty was not yet settled, for the Justice of the Peace, when he came did not think that he was authorized to marry people outside of Benton county, and the bride and groom and friends and relatives came over into Benton county, as far as the farm recently owned by William C. Pippin, on what is called the "Pippin hollow," and on the Pippin old farm, under a large white oak tree, among the woods and tall grass, John West and Elizabeth Ann Montgomery, were joined together in matrimony, by the Benton county "Squire," whose name was Riddle, in his own county. Jonathan Dennis and family lived on that hollow at the time. The married couple went back down into the Gasconade country, but moved back in a year or two, near William Montgomery's place.

The children of William and Nancy Ballou-Montgomery were: Robert Carroll, John J., (now living in Hermitage,) David M., Thomas J. B., Elizabeth Ann (West,) Ruth Amiga (Jones,) Margaret Evaline (Davis,) Charity Caroline (Pointer,) Nancy Emeline (Lakey.)
