PREFACE

The cemetery records set forth in the following pages contain all tombstone inscriptions to be found in each cemetery. In comparing these inscriptions with the various biographical sketches and newspaper articles, you may find spellings and dates that do not agree with the inscriptions. We have not changed any of these spellings or dates but have, in some instances, underscored what seemed like an unusual spelling. We prefer to let you, the reader, make the decision as to which is right. Our aim has been to present the facts as we found them.

We have tried to include cemeteries from all sections of the county. This book does not include all Lawrence County cemeteries for, at this time, we know the total to be more than seventy. It would, therefore, be impossible for us to present all inscriptions in this book.

John Williams is credited with being the earliest settler in what is now Lawrence County (then Barry), having settled here in 1831. The earliest recorded burial is that of Abigail Williams who died in 1833. She was the wife of John and is buried in the Roberts Cemetery.

The genealogical and historical data following each cemetery has been extracted from reference materials at hand. We are sorry it was so limited but also we wanted to include as many inscriptions as possible.

My special thanks is extended to my mother-in-law, Mabel; my sister-in-law, Ruth; my niece, Bonnie; my daughter, Karen and to my nephew, Brice for without their help, these records could never have been compiled.

Mary M. Curry

CAMP GROUNDS CEMETERY

Location: T28N, R25W, Section 27; or, about 1½ miles SE of Chesapeake.

This small well kept cemetery still has what is left of the old bench type seats and old tables, which serve as reminders to some, of "the good old days". We have been told there were once "big happenings" here. Revivals and other events brought out large numbers who came, brought lunch, and stayed all day. This little spot became known to all as "The Camp Grounds".

ROBERTS CEMETERY

Location: T27N, R26W, Section 3; or, about 2½ miles E. of Mt. Vernon. The cemetery is about ¼ mile off the road, is fenced and well cared for.

Lawrence county was first settled by white men in 1831, during which year John Williams moved here from Tennessee. . The 1888 History of Missouri is quoted from----

Pg. 402 - Lawrence Co. Section

"Squire John Williams and his five sons settled in or about 1831, 3 miles northeast of the town of Mt. Vernon".

"James Williams, son of John Williams".

Pg. 404

"A number of families accompanied Judge John Williams from Tennessee in 1831, but on reaching the creek and breaks near the eastern part of the county all turned back disheartened except the Judge and his son Samuel S. Williams, whereupon the creek was called Turnback, and still bears that name. Mr. S. S. Williams settled two miles west of Mt. Vernon in 1833".

SPANISH FORT CEMETERY

Location: T27N, R27W, Section 13; or, ca. 3 mi. S. of Mt. Vernon.

1888 History of Missouri - Covering Lawrence, Barry, Newton & McDonald Counties....Goodspeed Pub. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Pg. 402 - Law. Co. Section gives us the following informatio

"The Spanish Fort Cemetery, about 3 mi. S. of Mt. Vernon, is partly within the boundaries of the old fort, said to have been built there in the Seventeenth Century by the Spaniards. There is no written record of this early settlement so that its credit to the Spanish explorers, while acquiesced in by the pioneers, is merely legendary".

A large stone historical marker in front of the cemetery by the road reads as follows:

"Fort Ancient, believed to have been constructed by a group of eastward migrating mound builders, a band of Indians probably long antedating the Osages, on their way to what is now Ohio. These earthworks are a small replica of the great fort ancient in Ohio, where this prehistoric group reached its greatest culmination. This tribe probably had its village in the valley, and used these fortifications for defense. First pioneers describe the walls as originally about 5 ft. high and the moat 2 ft. deep. Springfield University Club Historical Marker No. 16 Erected Oct. 1930".

DRY VALLEY CEMETERY

Location: T27N, R29W, Section 25; or, 4 mi. N. and 4 mi. W of Pierce City, Mo.

On the tombstone which bears his name and dates, it also reads:

BENJAMINE WOODS
FOUNDED THIS DRY VALLEY CEMETERY
IN 1846

This cemetery is on the Lawrence County line, separated from Newton County by the road. The access road to the top of the hill is very steep and makes it look like an impossible climb.
The cemetery itself is well tended, though surrounded by forest and much undergrowth.

DUNKLE CEMETERY

Location: T29N, R25W., Section 5 or 8; or, ca 1½ mi. W. of Lawrenceburg. The cemetery is about ½ mi. back from the road and though I believe it is in Sec. 5, it is hard to tell whether you cross another section line. A nice sign hangs at the entrance. The county road west from Lawrenceburg is "Z".

GRAMMER CEMETERY

Location: T27N, R25W., Section 28; or, ca. 2 mi. NE of Marionville, Mo. Sets back in a field about $\frac{1}{2}$ mi. on private land. Cemetery is fenced but not maintained. It is becoming quite overgrown, partially covered with some type of bush which we were unable to penetrate. We found the stones for Peterson and Martha Grammer back under the edge of these bushes, both of which were down and partially covered with soil.

SUMMIT CEMETERY

Summit Baptist Church (1894)

Location: T28N, R26W, Section 15.; or, ca. 3 mi. N.E. of Mt. Vernon, Mo.

We believe this was referred to as "Ogle's Graveyard" at an earlier date. A death notice in the Fountain and Journal of 1886 states an infant son of J.M. and L.A. Chester was buried at Ogle's Graveyard. We did not find a marker for this child but there are many unmarked graves and bases from which the markers are missing.

We have been told the Ogle family moved away several years ago. The burials here are the only Ogle names we have recorded to date. According to the 1888 History of Missouri, page 409 (Lawrence Co. Section)--"Early Land Buyers", John Ogle purchased in Section 15, township 28, range 26 in 1841.

McCUNE CEMETERY

Location: T29N, R28W, SW $\frac{1}{2}$ of Section 18; or, ca 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles SW of Red Oak. For many years this cemetery was quite hard to find as it did not have a suitable access road. The County has made a very nice access road but since this was done in 1967, it does not show as yet on the county map. To explain more easily its location, let us say -- straight south of the Dade County line about 3-3/4 miles you will enter the access road, from there it is another 3/4 mile to the cemetery.

The cemetery is at this date is well tended and has a new fence and gate. The McCune lot is enclosed with a heavy iron picket fence, the base of which is set in concrete. Most of this lot is covered with concrete. Markers located within the "McCune Fence" will be noted as such in this inventory.

Many of the stones are broken and laying on the ground, some almost completely covered with dirt. There is evidence of several unmarked graves not close to any markers. Because of this, we have not noted any unmarked graves in the record.

HOSHAW CEMETERY
(Upper)

Location: T28N, R27W, SE½ of Section 20; or, ca 4½ miles W. of Mt. Vernon.

In this instance we have two cemeteries practically side-by-side, their only separation being a very small field and the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks. We have distinguished the two by labeling them "Upper Hoshaw" and "Lower Hoshaw". Some say the lower cemetery may have been called "Patton" but since the earliest recorded burial is one of the Hoshaw family, we have used the Hoshaw name.

The "Upper Hoshaw" is on the hillside east of the railroad tracks. It is fenced on all sides except that next to the road. The cemetery is well tended and none of the stones were down.

The "Lower Hoshaw" is just that. It has the earliest burials and the land is low and flat and could have proved unsuitable as a graveyard. The weeds were as high as our heads and with graves that needed to be filled and fallen trees and vines, we found it necessary to wait until early winter to make an inventory. We hope we found all of the markers.

WILSON FAMILY CEMETERY

Location:T28N, R28W., Section 17; or, 3mi E. of Larussel on County "F", then ½ mi. E. on dirt road. Cemetery is about a half mile back in a pasture, on private property. There is no access road.

We wish to thank Mrs. Colley Wilson for giving us this record. In addition to saving us that long walk to and from the cemetery, she also kindly volunteered the additional information given in parenthesis. Mr. Wilson is the Great-Grandson of Andrew Wilson.
