

JOHN BOYLE, Capt. and A. A. G.

Three Rebels Shot

On Sunday afternoon last, three rebels were shot, near Hunnewell, by a portion of Captain Barnes' Company M. S. M. The particulars, as near as we could learn, are as follows: A portion of Capt. Barnes' men, started from Salt River Bridge for the purpose of arresting three men. Arriving at the house where two of them resided, they were not found at home, but shortly made their appearance in company with two ladies, and the two men were arrested. Taking with them, these two individuals, the soldiers proceeded to the house of the third man, whom they found at home.

With the three prisoners they then started on their return, and on the way were fired on from the brush by a secret foe. As soon as the shots were heard the prisoners broke for the brush. They were immediately ordered to "halt" and not obeying the order they were immediately shot. One was instantly killed, the other lived on a few minutes, and the third one was left supposed to have been mortally wounded. The funeral of two of them took place yesterday. The names of the rebels killed were James Lasley, Joel Ridgeway and Jas. Price.—[Hannibal Herald.

An Illinois Surgeon a Prisoner at Richmond.

The Jacksonville Journal states that Dr. David Prince, of that city, who was a brigade surgeon in the army of the Potomac, is, without doubt, a prisoner at Richmond. An unfinished letter written by him and sent by some other person, which was received by his family some days ago, left little doubt on the subject. But the Richmond Dispatch, received at Baltimore on the 12th, mentions his name among the prisoners, and also states that he was wounded.

with the
Wome

It does are very planter Vicksburg
his overs ers; and
cer of the
In a part gether a three cott
sion of c
rebel Pres
that of b
burners, l
burning

A heavy night befo
down in t
overflowin
away brid
in the Mis
in about t
rise in so
the Summ
Hawk Cree
fore, much
washed aw quantities
port Gazet

Ten new words of se
recently b
Charleston
are similar

24 Aug 1862

25

2