

Hettie E. Turner, daughter of James William and Susan J. Turner, was born near Cairo, Randolph county, Missouri on Jan. 15, 1868. At the age of 17 she moved with her parents to a farm near Leonard, Shelby county, Mo.

H. C. Wilson, a young man of that community wooed and won the heart of Miss Hettie, and on Feb. 18, 1886 the wedding bells rang out the glad news that another beautiful home had been established. Into this home came children four, viz. Beulah, Victor, Noble and Ione. The first death in the family occurred on Sept. 27, 1907 when Victor was called away.

Today the surviving members, the faithful husband, the devoted children, Mrs. B. Herringer, Noble Wilson, Ione Roy and one grandchild, Denver Herringer, mourn the departure of the good woman. Other near relatives are a brother, W. S. Turner, of Moberly and Mrs. Sallie Morris, who linger this side the river.

During a brush arbor revival more than 40 years ago, the young parents gave their hearts to Jesus Christ under the ministry of the Rev. Mr. Winn, and united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Later they transferred their membership to the Christian church at Berea.

For nine years the Wilson family lived in Clarence. About two weeks ago her loved ones took her to the Mayo clinic for examination.

Everything possible was done for her relief but without avail. On Nov. 19, 1934 in St. Mary's hospital she bade good bye to husband and children and entered into the rest of the redeemed.

Funeral services were held at the family residence by Rev. J. L. Shoemaker, assisted by Rev. Wm. Rutherford and the body interred in the beautiful Morris Chapel cemetery east of Hagers Grove.

Tragic Death

Mrs. Steve Wells Drinks Poison Instead of Medicine.

Mrs. Steve Wells, one of the prominent and well known residents of Anabel, passed away at her home last Friday about noon, her death being due to poisoning after she had made a mistake in the drugs.

About eight o'clock in the morning she prepared what she mistook for salts and drank a rather large portion, but it was found after she became seriously ill in a short while that she had mistaken sodium flouride, a powder used for lice and mites on poultry for the salts.

Her death occurred only a few hours after taking the poison, and came as a shock to her family and neighbors.

At the time of her death she was 53 years old, and her maiden name was Miller. She was married to Stephen Wells, who with their two sons, Owen and Gilbert, and one daughter, Ada, survive. She is also survived by two brothers, Edward of Montana, and Charles of Missouri, and three sisters, Mrs. John McAfee of Montana, Mrs. Lillie Fowler of Macon, and Mrs. Luella Warren of Montant.

She was the daughter of John and Margaret Miller and was born at Redman October 20, 1882. She was married to Steve Wells in May 1906.

Mrs. Wells was admired by a large group of friends and neighbors, all of whom regret to learn of her untimely and tragic death.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Home for Funerals in Macon conducted by Rev. G. B. Draper, of the Macon Methodist church, assisted by my Rev. Wm. Rutherford. Burial was made in the cemetery at Macon.

Samuel Knupp, son of Joseph and Mary Knupp, was born in Westmoreland county, Penn., May 14, 1847, and departed this life at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cora Watkins, Clarence, Mo., July 24, 1934. At the time of his death he had reached the ripe age of 87 years, 2 months and 7 days.

In the spring of 1854 the family migrated to Southern Iowa when he state was in its early settlement. They made their first home near Farmington, Vanburen county, on a farm for several years. In the spring of 1859 they removed to Davis county, south of Bloomfield. Only a small portion of the country was settled at that time. Here the family lived until the deceased was in his early manhood. He had been given the advantage of the schools within reach of his home. In the spring of 1886 the family moved to a farm in Schuyler county, Mo. His parents were devout Christians, and the children were brought up under the influence of a family altar. The same spring in a meeting held by the pastor of the family, Bro. Knupp was triumphantly saved, and at once united with the Methodist church. He was very soon put into Christian service, first serving as a Class leader, and later as an exhorter. For several years he followed the profession as a school teacher, and was very successful.

In the spring of 1869 he was married to Catherine Foshee, a splendid Christian girl. To this union were born four children, two died in infancy. Two daughters survive, Mrs. Cora Watkins, of Clarence, Mo., and Mrs. Minnie Tattman, of Carrollton, Mo. Early in life he felt a call to the gospel ministry. With this so clearly revealed, he attended the Iowa Wesleyan University in preparation, and began his ministry in the Missouri conference in the spring of 1872. Here he served in this conference for 31 years an un-broken pastor. He served the following charges: Milan Circuit; Lindley Circuit; Kidville Circuit; Meadville, Circuit; Carrollton; Clarence; Glenwood Maitland. From this last place he was transferred to the Colorado Conference owing to the health of his wife. He began his work in Colorado in 1902 and served the following charges: Holyoke; Merit Memorial; Berkley; Denver; Georgetown; Collins Church, Denver, where he ended his active ministry by reason of the ill health of his dear wife who preceded in the year June, 191A. Since that time he has made his home with his daughters, who tenderly cared for him in his declining years of life.

Bro Knupp was a man of unblemished Christian character and devoted to his ministry. He found it a great joy to preach the word. He was not self seeking, but lived a life of unselfish service. His life was a living evidence of the Master's teaching. No one doubted him. He commanded the respect of all and was greatly beloved by the people whom he served. After his retirement from the active ministry his services were in constant demand as a supply, and to conduct funeral services and perform wedding ceremonies. His friends were numbered by his acquaintances. To know him was to love him. He had a great passion for lost souls, and won many for Christ. To serve his Lord, his church was his greatest joy. There could not have been a more consecrated, conscientious man than he, and there are hundreds of people who cherish his memory because of the good he did them.

He was a noble husband, a loving Father, an affectionate brother, and an ideal pastor. He has run his course, he kept the faith, and there is laid up for him a crown of eternal life.

Besides his two daughters, he leaves to mourn four grandchildren, R. K. Watkins, Columbia, Mo.; Mrs. Kathryn Ruth Breedlove, Kirksville, Mo.; Mrs. Neva Roberta Hope, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Dorothy Sholz, Kansas City, Mo.; four great-grandchildren, Ruth Lhamon Watkins, Clara Christina Watkins, Sarah Julia Watkins, and Beverly Hope.

His funeral service was held in the Methodist Episcopal church, South, at Clarence, Mo., on July 26 in charge of the Rev. A. S. Olsen, pastor at Clinton, Mo., assisted by the local pastor, Rev. Wm. Rutherford, and two long time friends and brother ministers, Rev. J. S. Howard and Rev. J. A. Sneed.
