

JOSEPH LOCHNER

d. 1926

Joseph Lochner passed away at four o'clock last Wednesday afternoon in the University hospital at Columbia, after a several weeks illness of typhoid fever. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lochner, had been with him since last Friday. For a time it seemed that he was improving and it was thought that he would recover, but a relapse and his condition grew rapidly worse until death occurred.

Funeral services were held at Columbia Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the Alpha Kappa Kappa house. Father Francis H. Deichmann of the Sacred Heart Catholic church officiated. In addition to Fr. Deichmann, Dean Guy L. Noyes, of the school of medicine, and Jeal Paul Bradshaw, student president, spoke at the services. Members of the Student Council attended in a body. The body was brought home Thursday night and six members of the Alpha Kappa Kappa accompanied the remains. Services were held here Saturday and the remains were taken to Goodrich, Ill., near Kankakee and the last funeral rites were administered at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Fredline Ruder, Monday morning. Interment was made at Goodrich, Ill.

Joseph Lochner was born at Herschel, Ill., October 28, 1902 and was 24 years of age. He moved with his parents to Clarence in 1913 and with his courteous manner and friendly disposition endeared himself to all he came in contact.

He graduated from the Clarence Public school in the year 1921 and attended the University of Notre Dame, at South Bend, Ind., for two years and spent one year at the university at St. Louis. This was his 3rd year at Columbia, being a senior in the College of Arts and Science and the School of Medicine. He was a member of Phi Kappa and Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternities, was also Councilman from the School of Medicine and representative on the Men's Pan Hellenic Council. Besides being a student he was a lover of music and was a violin player.

He was a devoted member of the Catholic church and a member of the Knights of Columbus lodge. He was a model young man with lofty and high ideals and the memory of his noble character will ever live.

The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful as tokens of the high regard in which he was held.

Besides the parents he is survived by two sisters, Misses Dorothy and Agnes, and a number of other relatives.

The grief stricken family has the sincere sympathy of many friends.

In Memory

Jan. 21, 1928.

In Memory of Cozette Capp.

Dear Cozette, one year ago today, Jan. 21, you left us, but the memory of you dear girl is as fresh in our minds as when you left us.

Oh, how we miss your loving smile, gentle voice and sweet presence.

We would not bring you back dear girl to this world of sorrow, for how happy you must be with the angels. Time alone with an unfaltering trust in God, can only heal the wound that your passing has caused. We do not understand now why a beautiful rose in its youthful bloom was plucked from our midst. Now we see thru a glass darkly, then shall all things be made clear.

These words of memory cannot help you, but we are trying to express our sympathy for the mother, father, sisters, brother and many friends you left to follow you.—From One That Loved Her Next to Her Own.

Milby Randall Timmons

Passed Away June 25th.

Milby Randall Timmons, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Timmons, was born in Clarence, Mo., February 25, 1911. He passed away June 25, 1925, at the age of 14 years and 4 months.

His entire life was spent in Clarence where he attended the public school in which he would have graduated from the grammar school department this last year had not his affliction interfered with his attendance upon the same. He was a studious and industrious boy, performing the duties which came to him without hesitation or complaint, and leaving his play and amusements to be engaged in after his work had been accomplished. He was a worthy example among his playmates, not only exercising himself in a commendable way among them, but endeavoring to promote peace and harmony as they engaged in their pleasures and pastimes.

He was well and favorable known to approximately all the people of the town and we have heard more than one give expression to the statement that he was a splendid boy. His attitude and conduct was such as to commend itself to even the grown people of his acquaintance and he won for himself a place in the hearts of all who knew him that was unusual in its character.

He united with the Methodist church in Clarence last fall, during our revival meeting and became a member of a Sunday school of about his age which is being taught by the pastor of the church. He was regular and punctual in his attendance until his affliction made it impossible for him to be present. His preparation of the lesson and his interest in the recitation were marked features of his work in Sunday school, and it was with great regret to us when he was unable longer to attend.

But notwithstanding his manly character and his splendid qualities he has been taken from us, and we mourn his going in ways that words cannot express. And we mingle our tears with the grief stricken family and other relatives. But we sorrow not as those who have no hope. Our loss is Heaven's gain, and while we are called upon to deny ourselves the pleasure of his association and companionship, his spirit has been transferred to that heavenly land where he shall bask in the sunlight of God's eternal presence and where his character shall develop and expand in ever increasing beauty and grandeur.

He leaves to mourn his passing his heartbroken father and mother, his two brothers, Max and Kenneth and one sister, Louise, with other relatives and a host of friends.

As an evidence of the high esteem in which he was held, a large congregation assembled at the Methodist church on Saturday afternoon, June 27, where the funeral services were conducted by his pastor, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Maplewood cemetery.

Mrs. H. W. Sherwood Dies at Macon

Had Been in Care of Specialists at Macon Sanatorium for Some Weeks
d. 1929

Mrs. H. W. Sherwood died suddenly at the Hildreth Sanatorium at Macon last Sunday morning after some months of lingering illness. Her condition was thought to be much improved the week before but a relapse brought death quickly.

Emma May Sherwood was born in Henry county, Iowa, May 2nd, 1877. She was married to Harry W. Sherwood, March 19, 1901 and they made their home in Clarence since that date. When nine years of age, she united with the United Brethren church of which her father, Rev. Howard, was pastor at the time. Later, when the family came to Missouri, she changed her church relations to the Methodist Episcopal church and transferred their membership to the M. E. Church South when the Methodist churches in Clarence federated.

Mrs. Sherwood was always interested in church work and aided in the choir for several years. She was a member of the Rebekahs and also took an interest in the affairs of the lodge.

She leaves a husband, father, step-mother, two brothers, Edward, in Boise, Idaho, and Wm. F., in Douglass, Kansas, also two sisters, Mrs. H. W. Williams and Mrs. Lloyd Long, both residing in Kansas City. We may judge as to her friends by the great interest manifested in her during her last illness.

The funeral service was held in the Center Street Methodist church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. L. C. Maggart assisted by Rev. S. Knupp. Burial was in the Maplewood cemetery.

OBITUARY

Andrew Cosby Haden, son of Thomas and Frances Haden, was born in Madison county, Ky., June 3, 1855. He departed this life Oct. 22, 1925, age 70 years, 4 months and 19 days. When but a boy he came with his parents to the state of Missouri and located near Woodlawn, in Monroe county. Here he grew to manhood and on March 12, 1876, he was married to Laurinda Million, of the same community. Of this union three children still survive him: viz. Mrs. C. W. Story, of Wenatchee, Wash., Milas Levi Haden, of Red Oak, Iowa, and Miss Effie Haden of Clarence, Mo.

His first wife having passed away on Jan. 15, 1893, he was married to Helen Townsend, of Shelbina, Mo., who is left to mourn the departure of her devoted husband. To this union was born one son who died in infancy.

Brother Haden spent his entire life upon the farm near Woodlawn until about 11 years ago when he moved to Clarence where he has since resided.

When a young man he professed religion and joined the Christian church near Woodlawn, where his membership remained until his death. He was a man of exemplary character, highly respected and esteemed by all who knew him. He was a regular attendant upon the Perry Jackson, the son of Thomas and Mary Jackson, was born in the state of Indiana, Nov. 29, 1834. He passed away at his home in Clarence, Mo., Oct. 21, 1925, age 90 years, 10 months and 22 days.

He was married to Mary Maupin Aug. 15, 1858. To this union were born two daughters and one son, the latter dying in infancy. The daughters still remain and are as follows: Mrs. Frances Renner, of Clarence, Mo., and Mrs. Mary Edmondson of Lentner, Mo.

His first wife having passed away on Oct. 23, 1877, he was married to Sarah E. Maupin, who still survives him, and who has proven herself a real helpmate during his older and reclining years.

He was the oldest of seven children, all of whom have passed away except one brother, Robert T. Jackson, of Shelbyville, Mo.

He was converted and joined the Methodist church at Bacon Chapel in 1883, under the ministry of Rev. J. M. O'Brien, who was one of the mighty men of Methodism in the Missouri Conference. Later his membership was moved to the Methodist church in Clarence where it remained until he passed away.

Brother Jackson proved himself a faithful disciple of his Lord, walking in his ways and keeping his holy commandments. For many years on account of his deafness he was unable to attend the services of the church with profit to himself, but his real spirit of devotion and trust in his Lord was in evidence of his daily life. He had one trait or characteristic that is worthy to be enshrined upon his monument, and that is, he never spoke evil of any one, but always had the kind and complimentary thing to say about any one to whom reference might be made. This is not only a rare but an estimable quality and indicated the kindness of his heart and the magnanimity of his soul toward all with whom he came in contact. As a result of this and because of his splendid spirit in a general way, he was beloved by all who knew him.

He not only numbered his friends by his acquaintance but they were friends in the truest sense of the word. We have yet to hear any one speak in any sort of a critical way of Bro. Jackson, but rather in his praise to be heard upon every lip. He not only lived well in his day, but has left to us an example of Godly living and christian fidelity worthy of our imitation. This is the greatest heritage he could possibly leave to his children and grand children. May they honor his memory by following him as he followed Christ.

In addition to the above he leaves to mourn his passing six grand children and seven great grand children, besides other relatives and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held at Bacon Chapel on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 22, conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. N. Giddens, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery nearby.
