FEEL EFFECT OF STRIKE

J. B. Lee, Burlington station agent in Clarence, reported that only one minor change has been made in train schedules here so far as a result of the coal strike which has forced discontinuation of many trains in various parts of the country. The local freight between Hannibal and Brookfield now operate every other day instead of every day as in the past. The strike of Quincy bakers also can be noticed by bread shelves in local grocery stores. While supplies from bakeries in other towns are great enough to take care of normal business, most grocers here were out of bread after Saturday's business.

Choir to Have Charge

Morning services at the Center Street Methodist church in Clarence will be under the direction of Miss Opal Renner and her choir in the absence of the minister, Rev. F. W. Rigg, who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Turney high school Sunday morning.
